“We are truly pleased to be able to recognize these key individuals with these promotions,” said Jon Pickard FAIA, RIBA Principal of Pickard Chilton. “It is deeply satisfying to have such a team of talented architects grow with the firm and assume a greater role in its leadership.”

These team leaders and project managers have all been key contributors to many of the firm’s highly successful projects, including the ExxonMobil Campus Project and BG Group Place, both in Houston, Texas; the Devon Energy Center in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; 1900 Crystal Drive and Rosslyn Plaza, both in Arlington, Virginia; and, most recently, the Northwestern Mutual Tower and Commons in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

“Pickard Chilton prides itself in exceeding our clients’ expectations,” said William D. Chilton FAIA, RIBA. “Each of these individuals has demonstrated leadership, commitment to design excellence, and service to our clients at the highest level.”

“Above and beyond exceeding their project related accomplishments, all have been exemplary mentors within the studio,” noted Principal Anthony Markese AIA, RIBA, LEED AP. “They have continued to foster the collaborative and creative culture within the studio that supports thoughtful learning, exploration and innovation.”
